

SUPPORT GROUPS

Brunswick Senior Resources Support Groups offer a safe place where group participants can express themselves openly without judgment with others who have gone through or are currently going through similar experiences. Support groups provide an opportunity to share feelings, coping strategies and exchange information on treatment options and resources. For a complete list of Support Groups follow the link to the BSRI Resource Guide.