Advance Directives

Living Will, Power of Attorney, Organ Donation, Etc.

Notary Services Available Through Case Management at Your Local BSRI Senior Center

An advance healthcare directive, also known as living will, personal directive, advance directive, medical directive or advance decision, is a legal document in which a person specifies what actions should be taken for their health if they are no longer able to make decisions for themselves because of illness or incapacity. In the U.S.

A living will is one form of advance directive, leaving instructions for treatment. Another form is a specific type of power of attorney or health care proxy, in which the person authorizes someone to make decisions on their behalf when they are incapacitated.

The NC General Assembly authorized the North Carolina Department of the Secretary of State to establish a registry where you may file your advance health care directives. Advance Health Care Directive Registry cards issued by the Secretary of State's Office will allow access to a registrant's document in two ways. First, the document may be accessed by pointing your smart phone camera at the QR code printed on the registration card. OR, you can do it the old way by entering the file number and password online. Anyone with access to the card, including your trusted health care agents/POAs and health officials, can scan the code, too. This will make it much easier to access the document on file with our office when needed. Don't have a QR code but want one? Click here to learn how

Testing

If you've determined that you are seeing signs of dementia, it's time to make an appointment with your family doctor. A referral from your family doctor may be required for testing centers. Only a qualified healthcare provider, like your doctor or a specialist, can make an official diagnosis of dementia. However, you should also know that a diagnosis can take time. To ensure that you have an accurate diagnosis, you may be required to take additional tests, or be referred to a memory clinic or a specialist. No one specific test that can diagnose dementia. If your doctor suspects dementia after your initial assessment, but can't make a definitive conclusion, you will most likely undergo a number of physical and cognitive exams. These exams can determine if you are showing signs that line up with the symptoms of dementia.

Hospice

Hospice offers both Palliative Care and Hospice Care. Palliative Care, also known as palliative medicine, is specialized medical care focused on the symptoms and stress of a serious illness. Staff assist in navigating complex healthcare situations, coordinating with your doctors to support your current treatment plan, and helping you manage pain and symptoms to improve quality of life for you and your loved ones. Patients can receive palliative care in their homes, assisted living facilities, hospitals, and skilled nursing facilities. Palliative care nurse practitioners visit patients as needed to assess care needs and provide pain and symptom management. Hospice Care begins when the current prognosis indicates a life expectancy of six months or less, or treatment is no longer available or desired.

Housing Assistance/Affordable Housing/Housing Resources

Affordable Housing Options

Affordable Housing refers to rental properties in which rent is based on income. Such properties receive funding through the Low Income Housing Tax Credit (LIHTC) and therefore must offer a certain number of units for lower income households. Households must earn either less than 50% or 60% of the area median income to qualify for these units. Rents in these units are capped at a maximum of 30% of the set-aside area median income.

Long Term Care/Nursing Facilities

*Questions about how to pay for Long Term Care? Call Brunswick Senior Resources at 910-754-2300

For a complete list of Long Term Care Facilities in North Carolina visit the North Carolina Dept of Health and Human Services website at this link Long Term Care.

LIVING FACILITIES DEFINED

Assisted Living Facilities ALFs and Skilled Nursing Facilities SNFs are two different facilities with different rules and different programs. If you suspect that a long-term care facility is needed for your loved one, the first step is to have a conversation with the individual's primary care physician. The physician will recommend whether or not your loved one needs a Nursing Home or an Adult Care Home (a.k.a. Assisted Living). Once the determination of level of care is made, the physician will complete a document called an FL2. This is a one-page medical form that lists the physician's recommended level of care as well as medical diagnoses, care needs, and medications.

Assisted Living Facilities ALFs: A facility for frail individuals who need assistance with a number of what we call activities of daily living (ADLs). Think assistance with bathing and toileting, mobility, personal hygiene, feeding. Not all ALFs offer "Memory Care Units" for those with forms of dementia. Monthly costs average $4,000 for standard care and $6,000 for memory care.

Skilled Nursing Facility SNFs: (What some call a "nursing home") is a place for folks who are (usually) nonambulatory and with some chronic medical condition that requires skilled care on a daily basis. Think of it as a "step down" from a hospital meant for longer term stays. Monthly costs average $10,000.

HOW TO PAY FOR IT

Medicare, Medicaid and Special Assistance

1. Medicare: health insurance for 65+. TO APPLY: Contact a SHIP counselor at your local BSRI Senior Center or the Social Security Administration at 800-772-1213

SNFs:

Medicare Part A (Hospital Insurance) covers skilled nursing care in certain conditions for a limited time (on a short-term basis) if these conditions are met:

1. You have Part A and have days left in your benefit period to use.
2. Your doctor has decided that you need daily skilled care. It must be given by, or under the supervision of, skilled nursing or therapy staff.
3. You get these skilled services in a SNF that's certified by Medicare.
4. You need these skilled services for a medical condition that's either a hospital-related medical condition treated during your qualifying 3-day inpatient hospital stay, even if it wasn't the reason you were admitted to the hospital or a condition that started while you were getting care in the SNF for a hospital-related medical condition.

You pay:

Days 1–20: $0 for each benefit period .

Days 21–100: $185.50 coinsurance per day of each benefit period.

Days 101 and beyond: All costs.

Medicare (cont'd):

ALFs:

Medicare typically only covers a short-term stay in a skilled nursing or rehabilitation community while an older adult is recovering from an illness or injury. It can also cover in-home rehab care performed by a home health nurse or therapist.

It does not cover non-medical care services such as:

- Assisted living
- Long-term care in a nursing care community
- Residential care homes
- Non-medical home care
- Generally speaking, Medicaid does not cover room and board fees in assisted living facilities. However, if you have little income and few assets, you may qualify for a program that helps pay for assisted living facilities.

2. Medicaid: Health coverage for people with low income and few assets besides their home. Medicaid is funded partly by the government and partly by the states. That's why qualifications for an individual to receive this type of coverage varies. Medicaid does not generally cover the cost of ALFs.

SNFs: Medicaid generally covers the cost of SNFs.

ALFs: Medicaid programs will cover some costs of services received by residents in an assisted living facility.

Medicaid does pay for these assisted living services:

- Nursing care
- Case management
- Medication management
- Assessments
- Medical exams

3. Special Assistance: Individuals with low income are potentially eligible if they are age 65 or older, or if they are disabled according to Social Security disability standards. Your monthly income must be lower than about $1,300 a month. That's GROSS income. Count Social Security BEFORE deductions for Medicare or other insurance. Count all other income from any source except VA benefits. For memory related disability income cap is around $1,600 a month. To Apply: call Brunswick County Department of Social Services 910-253-2077.

Extra Help

The Medicare Part D Low Income Subsidy, sometimes referred to as LIS or Extra Help, assists people with limited incomes in paying for prescriptions. Extra Help pays for a Medicare beneficiary's plan premium (up to a certain benchmark, amount) and at the pharmacy, people pay no more than $10 for their medications. There are two levels of Extra Help: Full and Partial. (Partial Extra Help will end in 2024, and all persons eligible for that level will receive the full subsidy.) Income eligibility is the same throughout the country, with slightly higher levels for Alaska and Hawaii. People who receive Medicaid, a Medicare Savings Program, or Supplemental Security Income (SSI) will be automatically enrolled into Extra Help.

Google & Apple Smart Speakers

These smart speakers can make hands free voice calls. It's a lot simpler, in fact, than some smartphone touchscreens. Devices with a smart display with a camera (the Nest Hub doesn't have one), like the Nest Hub Max or Lenovo Smart Display means you can enjoy video calls with long-distance relatives. While the Home cannot call 911 during an emergency, it can call any other phone number. In the event you need help but cannot get to the phone, this can be a lifesaver.

Safety Programs

The Brunswick County Sheriff's Office's "Are You Okay?" Program

The "Are You Ok?" system makes daily computer generated calls to subscribers at their pre-determined time each day, seven days a week, 365 days a year. If the subscriber is okay, they simply hang up the phone after hearing the pre-recorded message. The computer assumes the subscriber is okay if they answer the telephone. If the subscriber does not answer the phone, it will alert the Sheriff's Office and someone will try to make contact with that person or key holder to check on the subscriber. If they cannot make contact, a law enforcement officer will be dispatched to their residence.

How Early Can I Apply for Social Security?

You must be at least age 62 for the entire month to be eligible to receive benefits. If you were born on the first or second day of the month, you meet this requirement in the month of your 62nd birthday. If you were born on any other day of the month, you do not meet this requirement until the following month.

You can apply up to four months before you want your retirement benefits to start. For example, if you turn 62 on December 2, you can start your benefits as early as December. If you want your benefits to start in December, you can apply in August. If you turn 62 any day after December 2, you are not age 62 for the entire month of December. You can start your benefits as early as January when you are 62 for the entire month. If you want your benefits to start in January, you can apply in September.

Social Security benefits are paid in the month following the month they are due. If you are due benefits for the month of December, you will receive your first check in January for December.

Estimate Your Benefits

Knowing what you will get every month in retirement benefits will help you plan for your retirement. If you have a “My Social Security” account, you can get an estimate of your personalized retirement benefits and see the effects of different retirement age scenarios. If you don’t have a personal “My Social Security” account, create one at www.ssa.gov/myaccount or you can use an online Retirement Estimator at www.ssa.gov/benefits/retirement/estimator.

Social Security Enrolls You in Original Medicare (Part A and Part B).

(If you need help or have questions about Medicare call your Brunswick Senior Resources Senior Center for free counseling through the SHIP PROGRAM.)

Medicare Part A (hospital insurance) helps pay for inpatient care in a hospital or limited time at a skilled nursing facility (following a hospital stay). Part A also pays for some home health care and hospice care.

Medicare Part B (medical insurance) helps pay for services from doctors and other health care providers, outpatient care, home health care, durable medical equipment, and some preventive services.

Other parts of Medicare are run by private insurance companies that follow rules set by Medicare.

- Supplemental (Medigap) policies help pay Medicare out-of-pocket copayments, coinsurance, and deductible expenses.
- Medicare Advantage Plan (previously known as Part C) includes all benefits and services covered under Part A and Part B — prescription drugs and additional benefits such as vision, hearing, and dental — bundled together in one plan.
- Medicare Part D (Medicare prescription drug coverage) helps cover the cost of prescription drugs.

Most people age 65 or older are eligible for free Medical hospital insurance (Part A) if they have worked and paid Medicare taxes long enough. You can enroll in Medicare medical insurance (Part B) by paying a monthly premium. Some beneficiaries with higher incomes will pay a higher monthly Part B premium.

Social Security Disability Insurance

The Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI) and Supplemental Security Income (SSI) programs provide assistance to people with disabilities.
